ART ON THE WALLS

The current display features artwork by Enid Marx (1902 – 1998), a British designer, illustrator and printmaker celebrated for her pattern making. During her 70 year career she produced a kaleidoscope of work including stamps, London Transport seating fabric and posters, books, book plates and book-jackets, wrapping paper, laminates for the wartime Utility Furniture Panel (she was awarded the title Royal Designer for Industry in 1944), rugs and menu cards. Currently her work can also be seen at the House of Illustration, London in Enid Marx: Print, Pattern and Popular Art until 23 September to which Pallant House Gallery has lent 36 works from its extensive collection of prints and archive material. She is also the subject of the new book Enid Marx: The Pleasures of Pattern by Alan Powers, available in Pallant House Gallery Bookshop.
